8 jobs I'd hand to dots

(ChatGPT's new always-on agents)

ChatGPT waits for you.
Your dot keeps working when you're gone.

you: offline

your dot: still working

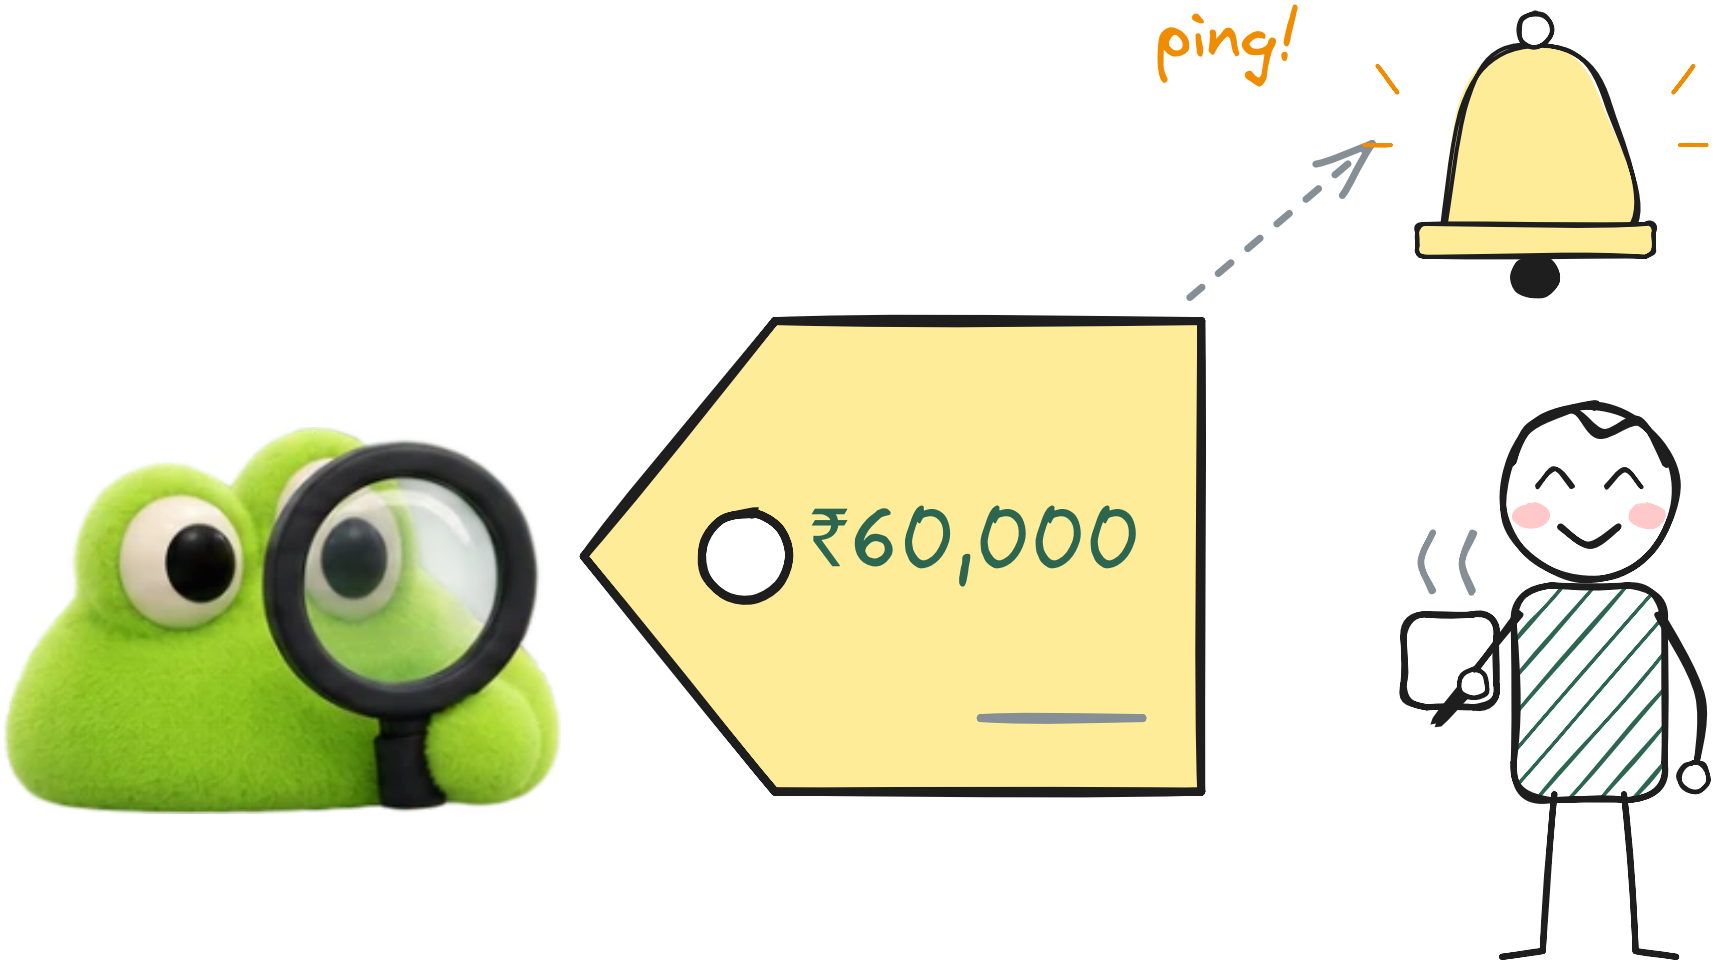

1

Watch a price for you

It keeps checking, and only pings you when the iPhone drops below ₹60,000.

2

Turn your inbox into a to-do list

A fresh list every evening.

3

Brief you before every meeting

Built from your calendar, emails and docs.

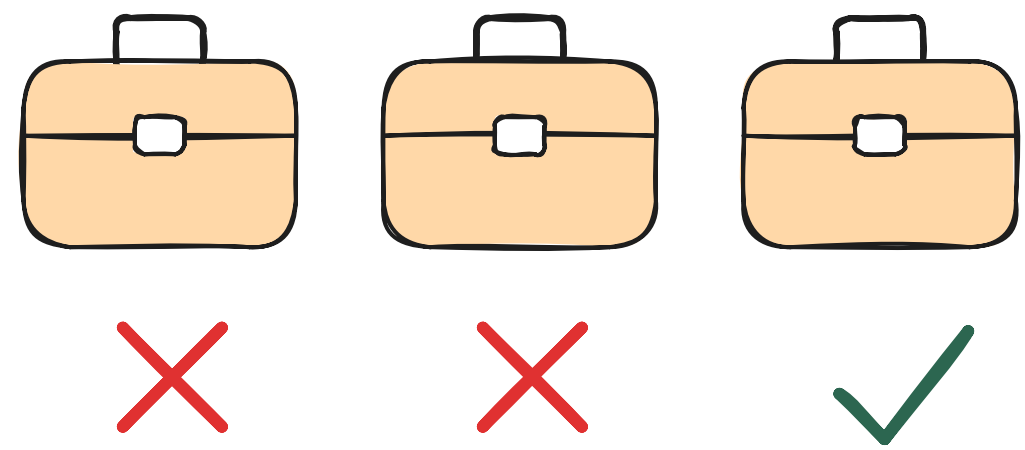

4

Hunt jobs and vet the companies

Only the ones worth applying to reach you.

You don't have to know what to ask AI anymore.

You can give it a responsibility.

Which one would you hand off first?
